CLIENTS

PVC WINDOWS

We have manufactured high quality PVC windows and doors for over 20 years now. Due to the fact that our production is based on the solutions of the world's leading system suppliers VEKA and Gealan we can offer a wide variety of products, which are distinguished not only by their unique design but also highest performance parameters. Thanks to the use of fittings from the well-known German manufacturer Winkhaus, the PVC windows and doors we manufacture are extremely functional and intuitive to use.

The fact that our offer is so wide, varied and innovative, combined with an uncompromising approach to quality and an affordable price, make our PVC windows popular not only on the local market, but also in many European countries and the United States.

DOORS

A wide selection of doors makes our offer of building joinery complete. It includes both aluminum and PVC doors manufactured in our factory, as well as products of proven and valued suppliers. Thanks to this, we are able to equip your facility with both entrance and interior doors. Among over 500 models, you will certainly find those that best suit the style of the facade and interior of the building. A special option are the ultra-modern aluminum panel doors of our production, which are distinguished by aesthetics and durability incomparable with any other solution on the market.

The offer is complemented by garage doors for use in single- and multi-family housing as well as in various types of industrial facilities. Thanks to the wide range of designs, colors and surfaces you can match the appearance of the garage door to the building in both classic and modern forms.

ALUMINUM CONSTRUCTIONS

Basing on the well-known and worldwide respected ALUPROF and Yawal systems, we produce a full range of technologically advanced aluminum window and door constructions, dedicated to both residential and industrial facilities. Our offer includes both internal partitions, external thermally insulated windows and doors, as well as facade constructions and winter gardens. Following the latest architectural trends, we offer sliding and folding terrace doors. Due to the excellent thermal insulation parameters, our windows and terrace doors will also work in passive buildings.

All our products meet the highest requirements in terms of aesthetics, durability and functionality. Highly qualified specialists from Szach-Mat technical department will find optimal solutions for each project.

FIRE-RESISTANT CONSTRUCTIONS

Fire walls, smoke exhaust windows or smoketight doors are solutions that, thanks to technological progress, can protect people's health and lives. We offer the possibility of producing various building elements responsible for the organization of fire zones in buildings and guaranteeing appropriate conditions for the evacuation of people. The products manufactured in our factory that are responsible for the safety of building users during a fire include internal and external solid fire barriers and doors in classes EI15 to EI90, smoke exhaust windows and flaps, fire walls, as well as structures based on facade mullion and transom systems.
